COMMUNICATIONS: Letter to the board from Mr. Sam Fiocchi commending both Ed Runyon, Park Director and Doc Paluch, Zoo Director for their continued hard work and dedication to the facility. A monetary donation was submitted with the letter as a token of appreciation as Mr. Fiocchi and his grandson were recently taken on a private tour of the park/zoo and were very impressed by the experience.

REPORTS:

- 1) COUNTY ENGINEER: Dale Foster had no report.
- 2) COUNTY COUNSEL: Jim Arsenault had no report.
- 3) COUNTY TREASURER: Francine Springer had no report.

FREEHOLDER REPORTS:

- 1) FREEHOLDER MOREY: Mr. Morey announced the 2nd Annual UAS Symposium would be held at the Cape May City Convention Center on October 13-14, 2016. The event would be featuring a strong lineup of speakers and participants, including the FAA, both supporting and participating making it a much anticipated event.

An emergency management exercise was scheduled to take place sometime in the next 30 days he reported. It involved a Tabletop Exercise-a simulation of a hurricane type disaster that would come upon the county with UAS launched to principally reestablish cell communications throughout the county. There would be a demonstration through Verizon with the UAS being a “cell bridge” to enable mobile phone service to be restored. Some photography also scheduled to take place; looking at shorelines and areas of infrastructure of importance, accessing their suitability for traffic. This event will likely be held within the first two weeks of October, although the date isn’t locked in as of yet. More information to follow.

He reported ground would be broken soon, towards the end of October for new facilities being constructed down at the airport off of Hornet Road. Resdel Corporation would be moving to a new facility. Their lease had been substantially negotiated, with the county participating in those negotiations, namely Nancy Mauro of the Engineer's Office leading that effort for the county.

- 2) FREEHOLDER GABOR: Ms. Gabor reported the Department of Aging and Disability Services had partnered with the non-profit Cape Assist and obtained a $50,000 grant intended to assist in meeting the needs of seniors for a variety of projects, such as safe housing, which would provide them with funding for major repairs not within their budget. She recognized Donna Groome and her team for their efforts in obtaining this funding for those within the county who may have need for this assistance.

Regarding homelessness, she informed at the last freeholder meeting a resolution was passed authorizing Triad Associates to work with the county to establish a ten year plan required in order to implement a Homelessness Trust Fund. Once a plan is in place the county would then have the ability to collect fees which would go towards homelessness prevention services. She was very pleased that this had come to fruition she stated.

So far the partnership between the Cumberland/Salem Workforce Development Board and Cape May County, which began July 1st seemed to be working well she stated. The percentage of individuals who have participated in workforce training activities as part of the requirement of the Workforce NJ Program have risen from 7% to 34% since July. Things are only going to get better from here and the team in place is truly second to none she commented.

Freeholder Gabor thanked fellow board members, department heads and staff, her husband and family for their kindness and support over the past 5 years. She also recognized all the volunteers and non-profits for their contributions.

- 3) FREEHOLDER HAYES: Ms. Hayes announced the Cape May County Library was celebrating One Book, One Cape May County Community Initiative at all branches during the month of September. The program encouraged members of the community to all read the same book at the same time. The book being highlighted this year was Loving Frank, by Nancy Horan. The central character of the book, Frank Lloyd Wright, famous American architect had strong ties to the Greater Philadelphia region she explained. The freeholder would be introducing the author, Nancy Horan at a presentation being held at the Sea Isle City tomorrow evening.

Last Wednesday the freeholder attended a funeral at Arlington National Cemetery for Elaine Harmon. Mrs. Harmon was a World War II Woman Airforce Service Pilot (WASP). Her last will and testament, found by her family after her death contained a request for her to be buried at Arlington. Her family attempted to comply with her wishes but were initially denied rights of burial there. They fought this and by an act of Congress and the signing into law by the President she was buried in Washington last week with full military honors.

Freeholder Hayes will be participating in an Over the Edge fundraiser event sponsored by Big Brothers Big Sisters of Atlantic and Cape May Counties on September 23, 2016 in Atlantic City. She will be rappelling a 17 floor building she announced.

- 4) FREEHOLDER DESIDERIO: No report. He thanked Freeholder Gabor for her excellent service and let her know she would be missed.

- 5) FREEHOLDER THORNTON: Director Thornton stated he would save his comments related to Freeholder Gabor until later in the meeting. He did say she had played a significant part on the board, especially with the matters of the Homelessness Trust Fund and the Workforce Investment Board.

He reported that central communications with the Office of Emergency Management were coming together down at the airport. The labor had begun on the public safety building project. The staffing and equipment had also been discussed.

Director Thornton recounted some of the content of a recent meeting held between county officials, Lt. Governor Guadagno, the DEP, Director of Alcoholic Beverages and business owners of breweries, distilleries and wineries. The Lt. Governor’s focus included finding out how the industry could be further promoted down here. The wineries are the future of Cape May County and would generate jobs he stated. He had been surprised to hear that the wineries in season had trouble finding employees. This issue would be addressed in discussion with the Workforce Development Board. He complemented Will Morey for his very active commitment to the economic development of wineries and breweries in the county.
